TSO řixi ‘one person’.

AKL Proto-Southern Philippines \-da* ‘only’.

KAG Their numbers are used to name the number of items, whereas Spanish numbers are used in naming the price; for numbers larger than twenty Spanish or English numbers are more often used in counting; the younger generation generally does not know the counting system of their language after the number 19.

SAB isa (in counting only); dakayu? elsewhere, or daN-.

MUR (in counting); also sā(?).

MIN Also satu.

BAL Also a-; bəsik. sə- only occurs when counting the series ‘one, two three ...’ sə, duə, təlu ..., and in certain numerals (sə-likur ‘21’; sə-timan ‘45’; s-atuś ‘100’; **s-íu* ‘1000’); a- is prefixed to classifiers, units of measurement e.g. baas a-kilo ‘one kg of rice’; bəsik has the basic meaning ‘unit’, i.e. it functions as a general classifier for counting inanimate objects: a-bəsik ‘one unit’; dua-ŋ bəsik ‘two units’. It also means ‘one’ in certain compound numerals e.g. təlu-ŋ dasə bəsik ‘31’, pət-aŋ dasə bəsik ‘41’.

GOR Also tuwewu; in counting, řo-yi<sup>n</sup>da.

UMA	ha- and ro- ‘two’ bound forms used with classifiers (e.g. ha-dua ‘one-person’; ro-maʔa ‘two-animal’); isaʔ and dua ‘two’ are independent counting forms.
WOL	Also saŋu (of objects)
NGA	se- (bound form).
BUR	Also saa , sia .
TAK	Short variant is kaek ‘one, alone’ (13.330), used in various compounds: see 02.810, 12.920, 14.330.
DAM	These numbers, particularly the first three, are still in use, but all are often replaced by their equivalents in Tok Pisin.
YAB	Also ta-gεŋ ‘one-only’.
TOL	For numerals see Mosel (1984: 65), also voana .
ADZ	bisiʔtaʔ (Amari dialect).
KIL	Numeral suffix. Classifier-numeral is obligatory for numbers less than one hundred; for whole hundreds and whole thousands the classifier is optionally present. 13.010 to 13.106 etc.
TAW	Also emoti ; gehouna ‘one/another’.
MEK	aŋao ( aŋaʔo ); alaka , West Mekeo; alakao-ŋa and alakao-ŋa-mo (where -ŋa is a 3sg and -mo ‘just, only’) North Mekeo, also akao-ŋa-mo ‘one’, aminia ‘one, a’, aipinamu (cardinal) ‘one’.
MAR	kaisei (adj); kaha (in counting).
KWO	Also teʔe .
KWA	Also kʷatia .
AJI	Also rãxã .
XAR	The numeral system is both quinary and vigesimal.
WFI	Also tahila .
SAM	Of people: toʔa-tasi , toʔa-lua , toʔa-tolu etc. ( toʔa - classifier).
TAH	Also tahi .
RAP	Also hoʔe (in numbers greater than one).

YAM This just means ‘to tell on someone’. It is not nearly as strong a word as ‘betray’; pačīŋinaŋina ‘to sell’, might be used at times.

KAL tūyuk + i-.

TAG kanulo + mag-/ipag-.

AKL budhiʔ + -un; also ʔūʔib + -un.

MOL akkal + -an.

KAG luʔib + mag-/an; also [traydor] + mag- from Spanish traidor.

SAB tipu + aN-/ø.

MGY From maN-vadika.

MIN From Sanskrit.

JAV From Sanskrit.

MAD Safioedin (1977): ‘deny’.

SAS Also brugun.

BUR ‘sell’.

DOB ‘do bad act’. ‘He betrayed his brother’ would be; ʔa-dem moray ʔasetay aʔa ʔani k<sup>w</sup>alisan.

SAW ‘make difficult’, form Tobelo.

TAK ‘outside-at do, put’ (12.060, 09.110/12.020), as in kuei-te i-gane-ya ‘outside-at he-do-PERFECT’, i.e. ‘he put (him) on the outside’, i.e. ‘he betrayed him’.

DAM ‘to bring out into the open’ (not necessarily ‘betray’).

MAB -swe la ka- koi ‘reveal to an enemy’; -ur la ka- koi nama- ‘put in the hands of an enemy’

YAB ‘betray, reveal’; also -som ... lase ‘speak ... forth’.

TOL Also vaŋo (vb intrans/trans).

ADZ ‘disclose-PART talk in.the.open’, i.e. ‘betray’.

- MOT Possibly tao-a ‘to push down’, tore ‘to write’ i.e. ‘to write about someone to accuse them’.
- MEK e-pa-au-a is the word used by the missionaries to describe Judas’ betrayal of Christ. au means ‘distance’, hence perhaps to ‘distance someone’. Brown gives au-uŋa e-ŋauoia.
- MAR p<sup>h</sup>ipliposa ‘deceive, betray’; [majōra] from Bughotu.
- KWA Also -ni pui ‘inform on’.
- NEM ‘break one’s word’.
- CEM ‘one who looks in all directions; spy’.
- XAR ‘say in obvious way’.
- KIR CAUS of m<sup>w</sup>ane ‘ensnared’.
- MSH Also kinak; liāk!ok with suffix -!ok ‘away’, also ‘condemn’.
- PON With suffix -la ‘away’.
- WLE Also ‘disclose, reveal; ūpaūpa ‘be unfaithful to, betray’.
- EFI Also kanakanayārua-taka.
- SAM faʔa- CAUS, lata (vb intrans) ‘be close, near’.

MGY From ni + ila-ina, lit 'what is needed'.

ACE Also čita 'duty'.

IND Also kə-butuh-an.

SUN Also paŋabutuh (butuh).

MAD From ka-[parlu]-an.

BAL (mə-)buat 'important; necessary'; (N-)sarat-aŋ 'need, attach importance to'.

GOR 'that which is necessary'. ʔu, non-personal nominaliser and relative pronoun.

KON Also ka-[parallu]-aŋ.

MAG From Makassarese.

BUR ya ŋei ii dita 'I need that stuff'; also [perlu] (e.g. ya naŋ perlu 'my need').

MAB le-urāta pa 'have work for something'; bela necessative adverb.

DAM Also lā  $\phi$ -ou $\phi$  'not-future condition, death 3sg TRANS AUX vb-future'; meaning: 'if not, he will die'. There is no word which means 'need'. Also gai 'must', e.g. i gai ado-u $\phi$  'he must have it'.

TOL ni- NOM, ibə (vb intrans/trans) 'lack', see 12.170.

ADZ 'thing hot-PART'.

KIL i-bodi 'it suits'; i-bod-aigu 'it suits me'.

- TAW No word – they use nugonugo-na ‘his wants’. I have extensively discussed this concept in their language, so feel fairly confident of a definite exclusion.
- MOT No simple equivalent. The ordinary future tense is often used e.g. kerukeru ba mailai-a ‘you must bring it tomorrow’ (kerukeru ‘tomorrow’, ba 2sg future, mailai-a ‘to bring (vb trans)’).
- MAR ‘need, want’.
- LEW ‘to have short hands’.
- NTA ‘must have’.
- WLE Also  $\phi^{we}$ ,  $\phi^{we}$  preverbal marker of futurity, intention.

ACE Also paŋuleə.

BAT Also paŋ-ulu ‘leader’.

MIN Also tuo, iñiʔ.

BAL Also kliŋ see kəlih-an ‘elder’.

SAS Balinese? Also [kliŋ] Balinese?

GOR (of a village); tā, personal nominaliser; ʔu, non-personal relative; daʔa ‘big’. Also [huhuhu] and [jogugu] ‘chief of a district’ (no longer in use, as the particular political subdivision has been abolished). These last two forms were borrowed from Galela, a language of North Halmahera; the first is a Gorontalisation of the second.

- UMA paŋ-keni 'carrier'; [sepu?] is a loan from Dutch or English.
- KON Also puŋkaha 'boss'.
- MAG Chief of a former feudal district.
- RTI mane-k from the root, mane- 'male' was the term for the Raja or Lord of a domain (nusa-k), mane- could also be used for the head of a clan or lineage: mane-sio or mane-teo; or in reference to the head of a specific clan: as, for example, mane Iŋu-beuk. mane ana were the noble descendants of the Manek; also ma-laŋan.
- BUR A latu is head of a tribal domain, a loose alliance of clans (Malay Petuanan, Dutch Regentschap). Masarete is an alliance of 10 clans, one of which is now extinct from poisoning, and another of which is nearly extinct. Malay (Sanskrit) [raja] is also used. Up at Rana the term mat-gugul is used. A clan head is called geb-haa in Masarete, but mate up at Rana; olo, py-olo-t, and geba em-ŋaa ('person with a name/title') are all used to mean 'head, leader'.
- DOB Used for any leader or important person.
- MAM Also anuatanepoa.
- TAK 'head' (04.200).
- MAB bībi 'big one'; merere 'lord'; kon tu<sup>m</sup>būnu 'chief, traditional leader'.
- KAU Also akono. Note also lamit 'chief's wife'.
- TOL From lua 'first'.
- MOT Also, lohia-bada (bada 'big'), used for 'Lord' in Bible; yau-bada 'great chief'.
- MEK lopia means 'chief: chiefship', referring to the institution as much as to any individual. The office is ordinarily hereditary, going to the eldest son; but there is usually a junior chief, lopia eke, in each clan and sub-clan, who will be the/a younger brother. The lopia is more particularly the 'peace chief'. The war chief is known as iso (io) 'spear'; the war-sorcery chief is fai?a which actually means 'cinnamon', the symbol of war magic; and the 'chief sorcerer' is lopia e-ŋa ŋa-ŋa. The institution of lopia originated (?) in the East Mekeo area and only reached the West Mekeo villages in the second or third decade of this century; it has not yet penetrated as far as the NW Mekeo area. In earliest times it seems there was only the war chief, iso (io), and the war-magician or fai?a. The NW Mekeo nowadays refer to the chief or village head as biaku (see Motu biagu 'owner'). See Hau'ofa for a full account of East Mekeo institutions.

AKL (gamh-an); also hāriʔ + mag- 'reign'.

MOL kowasa + mog-.

KAG dumala + mag-/an.

BLA m-agot 'to be in charge of'; m-ɔlok 'to lead'.

MUR [padintaʔ] (maŋ--on).

SAB bayaʔ + ag-an/pag-an.

MGY From maN-tapaka; also 'to cut'.

ACE 'rule, pass judgement'.

BAT maŋ-atur 'to rule'; [raja]-i 'to dominate'.

JAV Dutch recht 'law'.

BAL From Old Javanese; also ñənəŋ (N-[jənəŋ]) [ratu] 'rule' from Old Javanese; pñənəŋan (pə-N-[jənəŋ]-an) 'period as ruler'; (N-)gisi [gumi] from Sanskrit, lit 'hold country'.

- GOR (pare<sup>n</sup>da + moN-). The root of this verb, pare<sup>n</sup>da (or palc<sup>n</sup>da), Malay pərintah, means ‘order’, as in ‘to give orders’. momare<sup>n</sup>da was, however, probably borrowed already formed (Malay məmərintah) ‘rule, govern’.
- MAG Also pukul.
- SIK Also βa bəli, rego reo-ŋ, βage; bəli[parinta].
- SAW Sanskrit.
- MAM Also tanepoa.
- TAK ‘give orders’.
- MAB Also -<sup>m</sup>boro ‘look after’.

- KAU ‘be dependent upon’: used of one who possesses authority by virtue of his wealth or social abilities; political authority among the Kaulong is achieved rather than inherited.
- TOL var-kur-ai (vb intrans) ‘decide, judge, govern’.
- KIL Form given in text above is the verb focus form for ‘to rule, to be chief’; the object focus form is -guyoi ‘to rule (them)’. This word may only be used in reference to hereditary chiefs who occupy their place by proper appointment. A more general reference to governing powers by anyone in authority is: -karaiwaga (verb focus) ‘rule, give orders, decide’; -karaiwogi (object focus) ‘rule (them)’.
- MOT See 19.410. Also lohia-ia (lohia ‘chief’).

TAG PHN *hāziʔ.

AKL PHN *hāziʔ.

PAL Also raya.BLA hariʔ 'king'; ulu 'ruler, head'; to m-ɨbi i banwi 'the person who rules the land'.

- SAB Also pagbebeya?-an ‘leader’.
- MGY From mpaN-zaka + lahi; [zaka] from Sanskrit.
- BAT This word is also used as a term of address or reference for prestigious men.
- MIN Also pa-marentah(paN-parentah).
- IND Also [sultan] with regional preferences and meanings.
- SUN Also ratu.
- JAV Also [rɔʃɔ].
- MAD From Javanese.
- BAL aʃi is used in Old Balinese royal titles, and as an honorific meaning ‘father’ in NB; datu, ratu are both found in Old Balinese texts; Old Javanese has both ḍatu and ratu; datu is not found in NB. atu and ratu are terms of address for nobles of high status; ratu may therefore have been borrowed twice, at first displacing Old Balinese datu and undergoing the native loss of initial /r/; then reborrowed later as ratu; anak [agun] from Old Javanese, a satria caste-title lit ‘big, great person’.
- SAS Also datu.
- GOR A loanword from the Galela language of North Halmahera.
- WOL Also lakaki-aka, [raʃa] Sanskrit.
- RTI See 19.240.
- BUR See note for 19.240.
- DOB This is one of the Dobel compound phrases with a single meaning, lit ‘heads and gods’, but it is used for the (plural) leadership of a village or area.
- SAW Ternate.
- DAM ‘head’; leaders placed above other headmen by the colonial powers were called murur odug ‘big leader’, and this term is sometimes used to talk about the Queen, although the English words King and Queen are more common.
- MAB Also pēze katūnu.
- YAB ‘steer-er’.
- TOL From Fijian tui ‘king’.
- BUA məyɔbɔp ‘big, important man’; yeβ ‘leader’.
- KIL From English king. It is used in reference to a constitutional monarchy. The word used for anyone not a hereditary ruler who is in authority is to-k<sup>w</sup>araiwaga ‘person-rule’ i.e. ‘ruler’.

- TAW tu wasawasa ‘rich person’, king; taniwaga ‘ruler’.
- MOT tau ‘man’. For ‘king’ the Bible uses hanua paβapaβa-na, given as ‘king, queen’ by Lister-Turner – Clark (n.d.). There were no kings or queens in traditional society, so the original meaning is uncertain.
- ROV Also tie kopu.

MAB ‘mother of shooting’.

KIL The bow and arrow does not appear as a weapon of warfare or a hunting tool. This item quoted above (-goubaku) ‘bow’ is the name given to a small bow or rubber-powered shanghai-like toy children used for spearing small fish in the shallows; or to the small blood-letting tool used by the magician when making magic spells. My informants say it is not a loanword; however it may derive from the English go-back, in reference to the backward-drawing action preceding firing the projectile. My informants politely agree this may be true.

MEK	afeau corresponds to North Mekeo, West Mekeo ŋuŋu ; NW Mekeo has apiu .

YAM 'one getting fish'.

MOL sodaʔ + po-no-.

KAG dagat + maŋ- + redup.; dagat 'ocean'.

MGY From mpaN-fintana.

IND Also pənaŋkapikan.

JAV 'person who catches fish'.

MAD -paʃaŋ 'fish' (vb intrans).

BAL From Sanskrit.

GOR (personal nominaliser + 'habitually fishes'); also poŋayilo (ʔayilo + poN-).

SIK Also ata raʔa iʔa-ŋ, ata rəβa-ŋ iʔa-ŋ.

- RTI Also mana-seko-ndai; dolu-dala and seko-ndai form dyadic sets in ritual language and can be used as doublets in ordinary speech. dolu ‘fish hook’; dala ‘fish-net’. Fishing by hook and line and by net is done by men; thus, mana-dolu-dala is ‘fisherman’. seko and ndai refer to tidal scoop-net fishing which is done by women; hence, mana-seko-ndai is ‘fisherwoman’.
- BUR ‘coastal person’; geba ka hama ikan ‘person who habitually looks for fish’. The people of Buru are mountain people and have not traditionally been fishermen. The lake and the streams only had eels and crayfish until 1975 when Rana was stocked with ikan mujair by the Indonesian army using a helicopter. Fishermen on the coast are predominantly geb Binonko from the Muna-Buton area off south-east Sulawesi, and thus much of the know-how and terminology is borrowed.
- DOB ‘fish person’.

- MGY vavaka ‘prayer, wishing’.
- MIN Also [ugamo].
- BAL Also [darmə] from Sanskrit.
- KON Also ator-aŋ (‘atoro’).
- NGA Arabic ‘āda ‘custom, manner’.
- SIK No word; hada-t ‘custom, ‘manners’ encompasses all religious and ritual practices. While many Ata Tana ’Ai are registered as Catholics, most still observe the rituals of the seven traditional ceremonial systems of the domains tana of Tana ’Ai. The lexicon of religion and ritual in Sara Tana ’Ai thus differs substantially from that of the dialects of Sika Natar and Krowe. The Ata Sika Natar and Ata Krowe have been Catholic for many generations and key words in their dialects for religious ideas reflect changes in religious practice in the past four centuries. In Sara Sika Natar [agama]; sara [sərani] Malay, ‘religion’.
- BUR A person of the Islamic religion is called geba slame; a Christian is called geba srane from the central Moluccan concept/word serani ‘baptise, Christianise’.
- DOB Now agama is the most used form (there is no g in Dobel).
- TOL From Fijian lotu.
- KIL Loanword, origin unknown.
- MAR ‘the church, Christianity’.
- PAA From English, via Bislama.
- NTA Also [rilijin] from Bislama.
- NEM ‘recite-thing’.

YAB ‘sacred-person’.

KAU Tok Pisin.

TOL Also [pater] (from Latin) Catholic priest, tələtalə ‘minister of a Methodist or other Protestant congregation’.

TAW ‘the sacrifice leader’.

- MOT 'preacher, pastor', in everyday speech used of Roman Catholic priests also. The Motu term used by the Roman Catholic church itself was not elicited. Bible uses ha-helaya tau-na lit 'a man who makes things holy'; earlier kohena was used, borrowed from Hebrew kōhēn.
- MEK [au-love] is a Roro loanword (for hau-robe) meaning 'holy man'. It is no longer in use. The nuns were iviao-love. Nowadays the Catholic priests are called (and addressed as) [fata] or occasionally [pe] (from English father and French père, respectively). [mikinali] is 'missionary' (also [mitsinali]). The word [sakerdote] has been imported in liturgical contexts.
- MAR 'sacrifice man'.

SIK Sara Sika Natar prəgasan; nao lami; koko hori.

BUR	'speak with a formal discourse pattern (e.g. at a wedding, settling a dispute)'; also bleta-k 'proclaim'; Rana psara .
DOB	'he talks about the Lord who is above's law/talk'.
TAK	'untie' (09.161).
YAB	'do behaviour'.
KAU	'to admonish'; also βo nut-nut (see 18.670).
TOL	See 18.222.
KIL	'announce, proclaim'. Early word used was guguya , as the first missionaries were from the Dobu area and that Dobuan word (meaning 'speak peace') was used there for 'preach'. However in Kiriwinan it meant 'give a severe moral lecture', which led to rather vivid sermons. A consequence of this early error is that Kiriwinan preachers are still called to-guguya 'person preaching, lecturing'.
MOT	'to make a speech, proclaim, preach'.
MEK	i-noŋo is a 'speech', a sermon, a public tirade; ma-ŋoŋo 'traditional knowledge; instruction; advice' is undoubtedly related.
RAG	Also dore-tore
XAR	'put down the word'.
KIR	CAUS of rab<sup>w</sup>akau 'wise, skilled'; kabarabara CAUS of bara 'untied, absolved, explained'.
PON	Also 'teach'.
WLE	Also 'advise'.
WFI	Probably Standard Fijian.
